ASTRO Talk: STUDENTS FROM ASTRO CAMP PARTICIPATE IN LIVE CALL WITH ASTRONAUT STATIONED AT THE INTERNATIONAL SPACE STATION

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

More than 900 ASTRO Camp students on Thursday participated in a live chat with NASA astronaut Richard R. Arnold II who is a member of Expedition 55 that launched to the International Space Station in March 2018. NASA's Director of Office of STEM Engagement Kelly Martin-Rivers said that 406 students gathered at the INFINITY Science Center to watch the live downlink event.

More than 500 participated visually at ASTRO Camp locations in Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and Alabama, she said. Maria Lott, ASTRO Camp Project Leader for the Gulf Coast, said Thursday's event marked the first time an astronaut was able to communicate with all 50 of the ASTRO Camp locations. ASTRO Camp, which is available to students in grades second through tenth, is geared towards teaching students science at the level they will be studying in the school year, Lott said. She added that ASTRO Camp is also embedded into community programs such as the Boys and Girls Club, colleges and museums. During the event, Arnold answered 20 questions – chosen from a pool of questions – written and delivered by students in the 55 ASTRO Camps, Martin-Rivers said. "It's so so important for students to see that the questions that they have, the science and math that they study and technology and engineering design process is that they study at school and in camp environments are really a part of the real world," she said. "It's really easy for kids to get lost in what they learn from a book and why it's important. And when you ask a question of an astronaut, whether it's an easy question or a hard question about an experiment, robotics or methodology, and they answer your question. It makes the student excited. It makes them understand that what they think about and dream about, what they wonder about, are the same things that we as adults, scientists and technicians wonder

Storage unit robbery suspect makes off with newlyweds' gifts

BY STACEY CATO
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

An unlikely twist in a Hancock County storage unit robbery lands one man in two separate jails in less than a week for identical crimes and a pair of newlyweds without presents.

Hancock County resident Chance Stockstill and his wife were married in May. The two were showered with wedding gifts from family, friends and loved ones who helped celebrate their special occasion.

Those gifts were placed into a storage unit, Stockstill said, located in Kiln near Hwy. 53 and Hwy. 603, until the couples current home was sold and their new home was move-in ready.

"We are selling our house so we put all our wedding gifts in the storage unit for now so we could use them when we got into the new house," Stockstill said. "All were still new and in the boxes."

In late June, Chance made a trip to the storage unit to place more items.

Nearly two years to the day after a Hancock County man's remains were discovered along the wood line of a dead-end road in Waveland, the man suspected in his murder was sent back to Mississippi to face a judge.

28-year-old Drew Daniel Bourgeois, a.k.a. "Creep," was extradited from a New Orleans prison on Friday, July 13 and booked into the Hancock County Jail late that same afternoon. Bourgeois is the suspect in the murder of local resident Jeremy Fountain, whose body was found in the woods

Waveland Board of Aldermen talk wireless service, health care and other routine business

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen on Wednesday discussed routine matters its regular meeting.

During public comment, Ralph Black told the board he is interested in starting a business in Waveland, Gulf Wireless, Inc., while will provide wireless and broadband services.

He asked the board for use of the city's water tower on Highway 90 citing the need for elevation to pull antennas.

City attorney Rachel Yarborough told Black that he would need to present the board with a formal proposal that includes a proposed lease and the amount he would be willing to pay to rent.

Yarborough added that the city currently leases spaces on the tower to other providers, so would have to ensure there would be no conflicts there.

Black also told the board that he would like to install a mobile office at the base of the water tower.

Yarborough told Black that she was unsure if the area was zoned for a commercial operation.

The board took no action and Mayor Mike Smith encouraged Black to submit a formal proposal for the board's consideration.

In a separate matter, the board discussed a Tactical Diversion Task Force Agreement with the Gulfport DEA Drug Enforcement Administration New Orleans Field Division.

Yarborough said her concern is that – if the officer committed a wrongful act outside the city of Waveland – the city, since the officers is an employee, could be sued as well and if that would be covered under the city's insurance.

After a phone call to Waveland Police Chief David Allen, officer Philip Pavolini told the board that the officer would be considered a DEA officer and would be covered under the DEA's insurance.

"The city of Waveland is sure to be sued as well," Yarborough said. "If I were the attorney, I would sue the officers and this board. The officer is separate from the city. My concern is that the city will not be covered."

The board agreed to table the matter.

In other action:

The board approved a motion authorizing advertising for bids for the Waveland Avenue Sidewalk Project, contingent upon receiving official notice to authorize from the Mississippi Department of Transportation. Engineer Jason Chiniche told the board that, once it's advertised, the city could receive bids by late August or September. MDOT takes about 10 to 14 days to approve a bid package, Chiniche said.

James Moody with Bancorp South provided the board with an update on health insurance.

The cumulative claims for the past six months total $108,000, he said.

There are 89 members on the city's health insurance plan, Moody said. That number includes family members.

With regards to improving, Moody said the city could encourage members to take advantage of the Healthy You wellness program.

Currently, only 15 members participate, Moody said.

Moody told the board, that since the city is approaching budget talks, that it would be beneficial to continue budgeting the same amount for health insurance costs.

City Comptroller Ron Duckworth said Friday, that last year, the city budgeted an estimated $6,552 per year per employee. The monthly payment for a single employee is $546, he said.

Duckworth on Wednesday gave the board a financial review for the period ending June 30.

The total cash for governmental activities equaled $6,155,876 of which $3,918,620 is on deposit in the depository account, he said.

The total cash for business activities equaled $2,616,477 of which $1,914,738 is on deposit in the utility department depository account, Duckworth said.

Duckworth told the board that a large payment to the police department building bond had been paid. On top of the normal payment of $115,000 and the interest payment of $23,300, Duckworth said the city also paid $760,000 on top. The $760,000 came from the out-of-court settlement with the prior contractor C Perry Contractors Construction Company; architect Nofie Alfonso; and project administrator Digital Engineering, Duckworth said.

The above parties were all involved with the police department building, he added.

The lawsuit came about because of "shoddy construction," Duckworth said.

The city had to halt construction after the Mississippi Development Authority discovered more than 140 deficiencies, he said.

Duckworth said that it was always the city's intent to apply the settlement to the bond.

He said that will shave about five years off the bond, bringing it to a seven year bond.

The next meeting is scheduled for July 30 at 6:30 p.m.

Bay F.D. responds to blaze at Washington Street

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

The Bay St. Louis Fire Department responded to a house fire in the 600 block of Washington Street at a little after 9 a.m. Wednesday.

A mother and her children lived in the home, neighbors said, but weren't home when the fire started.

The homeowner apparently drove up and "saw smoke coming out of the house," Bay Fire Chief Monty Strong said Wednesday.

No people were injured in the blaze, but a puppy died of apparent smoke inhalation, Strong said.

"Firefighters and a bystander tried to resuscitate it," Strong said, "but to no avail."

"Our firefighters did a great job," Strong said. "They went in, made a quick put-down of the fire and then went into the back bedroom to rescue the dog."

Why Does It Seem that Child Abuse Stops in the Summer?

Each summer, the number of forensic interviews* conducted at Hope Haven Children's Advocacy Center for suspected child abuse, either physical, sexual, or both, decreases. Do child abusers take the summer off? Why does it seem that child abuse stops during the summer months when school is out?

Unfortunately, child abusers never take a break! So, why do the numbers of forensic interviews decrease? Could it be that the main reporters of child abuse are not seeing the children as often as when school is in.

School personnel identify more child abuse than any other profession or organization including child protective services and law enforcement. School personnel are the on the front lines of reporting child abuse. Teachers and those individuals working in our schools are uniquely positioned to recognize and intervene in child abuse.

So, what can each one of us do when school personnel are not around to protect our children? First, know the law. In Mississippi, every adult is a Mandatory Reporter. In accordance with MS Code 43-21-353, any attorney, dentist, intern, resident nurse, psychologist, social worker, family protection worker, family protection specialist, child caregiver, minister, law enforcement officer, public or private school employee, or any other person having reasonable cause to suspect that a child is a neglected child or an abused child, shall make a verbal report immediately by telephone or otherwise and followed thereafter as possible by a report in writing to the Mississippi Department of Human Services. Failure to report child abuse is a crime!

What acts must be reported? Physical abuse, emotional/verbal abuse, sexual abuse/exploitation, and neglect. How do you respond if a child reveals abuse or neglect? Remain calm. Always believe the child, but don't make any promises. Assure the child that he/she did the right thing and is not to blame for the abuse. Let the child tell you about the abuse but leave the questioning to the authorities. Make notes about the child's language/demeanor in the event you are asked for a statement at a later time. And finally, report the abuse to the

Wicker Reaffirms the Importance of NATO's Shared Defense At Brussels Summit, President Calls on Allies to Meet Spending Commitments

President Trump delivered a tough but necessary message at the North Atlantic Treaty Organization summit in Brussels this month: Allies must meet, if not exceed, their commitments to defense spending. NATO's future strength depends on the contributions of all members.

The President was justified in making this demand. Every one of NATO's 29 members has pledged to spend two percent of their gross domestic product on defense by 2024. And yet, only five countries, including the United States, are currently doing so.

Burden Cannot Fall Solely on American Taxpayers Defense spending goes hand in hand with one of the primary benefits of NATO membership: the assurance that allies will come to the aid of each other in the wake of a direct attack. When members fail to meet their individual responsibilities, it affects the alliance's collective defense capabilities.

Countries such as the United States are forced to pick up the slack.

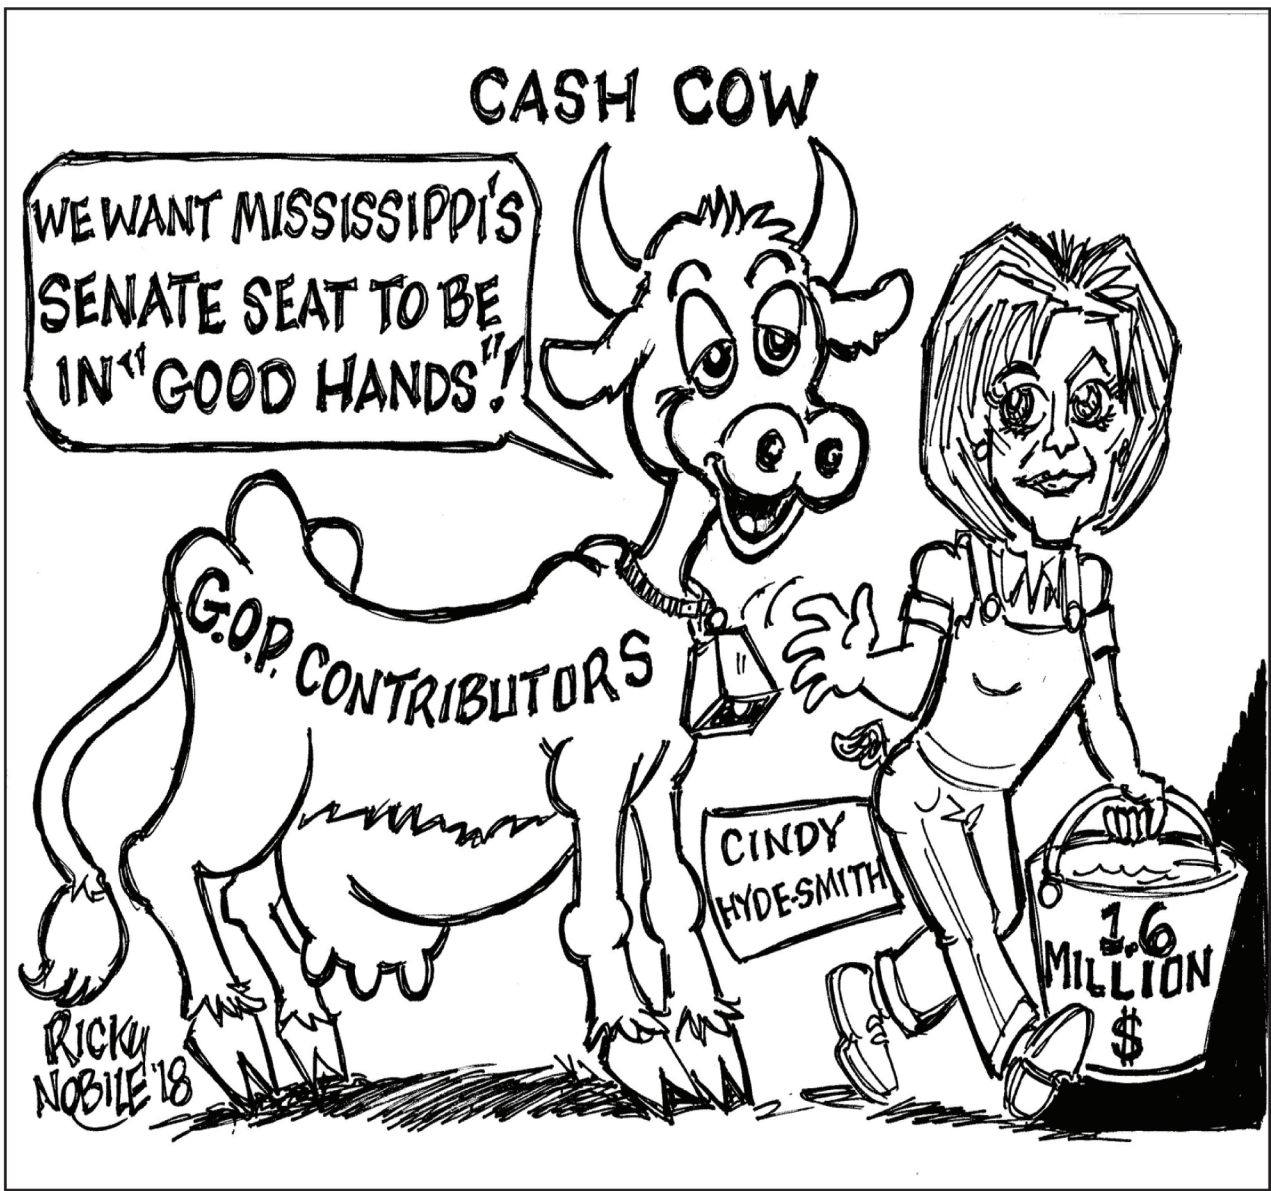

Defense Secretary James Mattis put it this way when meeting with the defense ministers of NATO nations last year: "No longer can the American taxpayer carry a disproportionate share of the defense of Western values. Americans cannot care more for your children's future security than you do." Those words echoed a prediction made in 2011 by former Defense Secretary Robert Gates, who said Americans would be reluctant "to expend increasingly precious funds on behalf of nations that are apparently unwilling to devote the necessary resources or make the necessary changes to be serious and capable partners in their own defense."

President Trump's firm stance in Brussels reflected these longstanding and valid concerns from the American people.

Senate Resolution Reiterates Support for NATO, Condemns Russian Aggression

Prior to the Brussels meeting, I introduced a bipartisan resolution in the Senate that underscored the President's call for NATO members to meet their defense spending obligations. More broadly, the resolution reiterated the importance of NATO's role in defending global security and democracy amid new threats to the values we hold dear. It also reaffirmed the Senate's steadfast support for the protec-

Thank you for your dedication to Bay St. Louis

It was a sad day in Bay St. Louis when Jimmy Loiacano worked his final shift with the city last month. In typical fashion, Jimmy stepped into retirement without much ado, and the city lost one of the hardest-working and most loyal employees it has seen in the last 25 years.

Vital to the advancement of Bay St. Louis throughout his long-term commitment to the city, Jimmy was seen around town unceasingly enhancing the community by his service. He did so with an enthusiasm that was contagious, and it would be difficult to find anyone who would pour such heart and soul into our community as Jimmy did day after day, year after year. The love he has shown for our city doesn't come any greater.

OUR LETTERS POLICY

The Sea Coast Echo welcomes comments from its readers. Letters must be signed and include address or telephone number. Letters should be brief, preferably typewritten and double-spaced. Only one letter per writer per month. The editor reserves the right to edit or reject letters. Letters of thanks, expressions of appreciation and political endorsements are inappropriate.

What we believe matters most is that Jimmy's retirement ends an era that we may never see again. His contribution was evident in the cleanliness and beautification of the city, and his devotion to genuine goodwill and hospitality was an inspiration to many of us and a gift to our town guests. Always ready to lend a helping hand or take care of a problem, Jimmy will be terribly missed. It is without doubt that the streets of Bay St. Louis have already taken notice of his absence.

Jimmy, please know that we will forever remember your dedication, accomplishments, and personal integrity. We honor you for your service. People like you truly make Bay St. Louis A PLACE APART. Congratulations on your well-deserved retirement!

tion of any NATO member state against Russian aggression.

The Kremlin has shown it has no qualms about violating international order and the territorial integrity of a sovereign nation, given its invasions of Ukraine and Georgia in recent years. As chairman of the Helsinki Commission, I led a hearing on July 17 specifically focused on Russia’s 10-year occupation in Georgia, which has caused untold harm on innocent civilians. Russia’s aggression in these neighboring states is more than just its flexing of military muscle. Moscow has long expressed a strong opposition to Georgia and Ukraine earning NATO membership.

Brussels Declaration Renews Spending Commitments

The outcome of the Brussels summit was encouraging; all 29 members signed a communiqué that represents a constructive blueprint to strengthen the alliance. The declaration specifically addresses the issue of defense spending, noting that national plans have been adopted by two-thirds of members to spend two percent of GDP by 2024. It also points out Russia’s many campaigns to destabilize Euro-Atlantic security, including its chemical attack against a former Russian spy in England this year.

The President was right to confront the difficult issue of defense spending when attending the NATO summit in Brussels. NATO has been at the bedrock of transatlantic security for nearly 70 years. With complex global challenges, the continued strength of the alliance is all the more imperative. This starts with the cooperation and contribution of every participating member.

Compulsory School Attendance Law

SEA COAST ECHO
As the new school year begins, the Mississippi Department of Education, Office of Compulsory School Attendance Enforcement would like to remind area parents about several laws governing school attendance. Under the Mississippi Compulsory School Attendance Law, parents and guardians are required to enroll their children in a public or private school. Mauffray, Waveland Police Chief David Allen said. During the initial court appearance, Bourgeois' case was bound over to the grand jury. In a press release issued Friday, Allen said, "Mr. Bourgeois was returned to the custody of the Louisiana Department of Corrections to finish his sentence in that state but will have to return to Hancock County if indicted on this charge." Allen said Bourgeois is currently serving a sentence in Louisiana for an unrelated crime. Bourgeois was first arrested for Fountain's murder in Metairie on July 14, 2016 by the Jefferson Parish Sheriff's Department. The warrant was signed by Hancock County Judge P.J. Mauffray. Hancock County Deputy Sheriff Don Bass said Bourgeois was served with another warrant upon his arrival Friday and was being held in protective custody at the Hancock County Jail until his initial court appearance for the murder charges. He was also being held for a violation for the Mississippi Department of Corrections. Waveland Police have been working the case in conjunction with the New Orleans Police Department. According to a press release issued around the time of Bourgeois' first arrest, Waveland Police Chief David Allen said Bourgeois is facing numerous charges in New Orleans, including Possession of Schedule II Narcotic with Intent to Distribute, Possession of Marijuana, and Possession of a Firearm by a Felon. He is also facing another murder charge there for the death of Hancock County native Matthew Spooner, whose body was found in a home in the 2100 block of North Miro Street in New Orleans just days before Fountain's body was discovered in Waveland. Police say the two killings are linked. Phone calls for updates in the New Orleans murder case were not returned before press time Friday. Spooner, who grew up in Leetown, had been staying at the house in New Orleans for a short time before he was killed, family members said. Fountain and Spooner were friends and members of the Simon City Royals, but both men -- along with other SCR associates -- had branched out, forming a new group called the "Sip City Royals," with hopes of moving away from criminal activities and making a positive impact on the community, friends said. Mike "Bling" Dosset, close friend of the two victims and fellow Sip City Royal, on Friday said, "We are holding on to hope that the justice system will carry out the justice that is deserved in honor of our late friends. They didn't deserve this. Their families didn't deserve this."

about as well." Arnold is a Maryland native and was selected a Mission Specialist by NASA in May 2004, his biography states. "In February 2006, he completed Astronaut Candidate Training that included scientific and technical briefings, intensive instruction in shuttle and space station systems, physiological training, T-38 flight training, and water and wilderness survival training," his biography states. "In August 2007, he completed aquanaut training and served as a mission specialist on a joint NASA-NOAA mission, NASA Extreme Environment Mission Objectives, where he lived and worked in and around Aquarius, the world's only undersea laboratory." Arnold's spaceflight experience includes the STS-119 Discovery, which was the 125th shuttle flight, the 36th flight of Discovery, and the 28th shuttle flight to the space station, his biography states. "The primary objective of this flight was to deliver the final pair of power-generating solar array wings and a truss element to the station," his biography states. "During this mission, Arnold accumulated 12 hours and 34 minutes during two spacewalks." Kennedy Richardson, 11, from Laurel's Central Creativity ASTRO Camp, said it felt good to be chosen to ask the astronaut a question. She asked him what he missed most about Earth, which he answered was his family and the weather. Richardson said she learned that the astronauts have to eat dehydrated food and also exercise in space. Reese Yoder, 6, said she learned that the astronauts use equipment to keep their items from floating away. Ryan Hoover, 13, from Hammond's ASTRO Camp, said he was impressed that Arnold knew the answers to the questions "right off the bat." Lott described Thursday's event as a "big celebration." She said this year's ASTRO Camp theme was, "Together we go farther." "I want that dream implanted that they can do this type of exploration," Lott said. "I want them to burn with desire to learn more."

Robbery

Upon arrival, he noticed the lock had been cut and someone had stolen all the couples new prized possessions. As luck would have it, Chance come to find the robbery had just occurred the day before his visit so he requested video surveillance footage from the storage unit owner's security cameras installed on the property. Chance said the owner reviewed the footage and caught the criminal in the act. "We had him on camera. He was facing his truck. We didn't know who he was and neither did anyone from around the house," Chance said. "So, I put the video on Facebook and just 3 hours later a witness called me and said they knew the man's address but didn't know his name. I drove by there and he wasn't home. I kept driving by or had friends drive by when I was at work hoping to find him."

Before Chance could get the chance to confront the suspect, Hancock County Investigator W. Reid "Coach" got wind of the viral video on social media and contacted the victim. "Investigator Reid with the Hancock County Sheriff's Department contacted me inquiring about the robbery. I told him we already I.D'd the suspect and knew his address," Chance said. With help from Investigator "Coach" Reid, the two put a name to the face in the surveillance video, Chance said, and located him. "Once we identified the suspect, I immediately started the proper procedures to obtain a search warrant for his home and for his arrest," Reid said. William Earl Smith's information was placed into the NCIC database and not long after, an official from Noxubee County in north Mississippi contacted Reid. The official told Reid that Smith recently been picked up and charged in their county for the same crimes and was currently at the jail. Hancock County officials got a retaining hold on Smith and a transport officer was sent to pick him up and bring him back to Hancock County where he was arrested and charged with robbery among other charges. Reid said authorities from the Harrison County Sheriff's Department worked in conjunction with the Hancock County Sheriff's Department. A search warrant was signed by a Harrison County judge to search Smith's home in Gulfport. During the search, investigators found several of the items stolen from the storage unit. One unopened gift was found in the home and at least two gifts were found opened on the man's kitchen counter for his use. "I think they found a knife set and a spice rack that he was using for himself on his kitchen counter," Chance said. "The rest of the gifts, of course were gone." Reid said several pawn shop receipts were recovered in the home. However, investigators have not yet linked them to the crime. An investigation is ongoing into the matter. "He picked the wrong guy to mess with," Chance said. It came to no surprise to Chance's new bride that her husband would go through extra lengths to seek justice. Smith was arrested and charge Wednesday and booked into the Hancock County Jail, where he is being held on a $15,000 bond.

WILDCATS HELPING ESTABLISH WINNING WAYS WITH COAST SOCCER TEAM

JOE ELLIOTT, GRANT ADAM AND ANDREW ELKINS HAVE PLAYED BIG ROLES IN PORT CITY FC'S 2018 SUCCESS.

COURTESY PORT CITY FC

SEA COAST ECHO

There's just a winning way about the Wildcats on the pitch. Fresh off of a MACJC title, Pearl River Community College sophomore Joe Elliott looks poised to earn a summer title — and he's not the only Wildcat. Joined by former PRCC star Grant Adam and incoming transfer Andrew Elkins, the trio of Wildcats have featured prominently in the break-out success of Gulf Coast Premier League club Port City FC. The young Gulfport-based team recently clinched a first-round bye after posting an impressive 8-1-1 regular season record. Now the Sounders await a second-round meeting July 26 against the winner of CD Montagua of New Orleans and Gulf Coast Rangers. "Any time they get a chance to play, it's good. You definitely stay in better shape by playing as opposed to just training," PRCC men's coach Drew Gallant said. "The level they're playing at is going to help prepare them for the season coming up." Adam, who was an All-American at William Carey, has been steady in goal for the Sounders. In front of him, Elkins and Elliott have already started to form a partnership that Gallant hopes will carry over into the MACJC season. GETTING DEFENSIVE Elliott, a native of Leicester, England, was a force during his freshman campaign as a defensive midfielder but will move to his natural center back position in 2018. Elkins, a former St. Stanislaus star who's transferring to PRCC after one season at Mississippi College, should slide into the lineup next to Elliott. "With those guys playing and training together all summer, I feel like our back line isn't going to need as much work (once practice opens)," Gallant said. "It will already be taken care of so we can focus on other things." Gallant said Elliott and Elkins should complement each other nicely once back at PRCC. "Joe is a very technical player. He's not the fastest, but technically he's better than everyone. He reads the game so well and has played at such a high level that he can read the game," he said. "In Andrew, we're getting a big center back who's very good in the air. That's his best attribute. He wins everything." GETTING STARTED

The Wildcats-turned-Sounders won't have much time to relax once their GCPL season concludes — and that's perfectly fine. Practice officially begins Sunday, Aug. 5. PRCC's men then open a three-game exhibition slate Thursday, Aug. 9 at William Carey, followed by a home game Saturday, Aug. 11 against Mobile and a road trip to Millsaps on Sunday, Aug. 19. The season officially gets underway Wednesday, Aug. 22 against Itawamba. For the latest on Pearl River Community College athletics, follow us on Twitter

RUN AND GUN FOR FUN

We have been grinding away at the fish the past several weeks. The early morning trout and redfish bites in the LA Marsh, at Cat Island and along the near shore reefs has been steady. The "reel" fun though has been when we crank up the motor and get moving. While we are cruising, we are constantly looking under buoys and pilings for triple tails. When the seas are calm and the sun is high, they are extremely easy to spot. Just get a live shrimp near them, and hang on! Huge schools of pogies have pushed in, and with them have come some big brawlers. Massive bull reds and jack crevalle have been smashing these poor pogies. A couple of days ago we had 4 of our boats working a couple of acres of pogies. The explosions from the feeding jacks and bulls looked like cannon balls hitting the water. Just this past week, we have seen these schools out in front of Buccaneer park, Pass Christian Harbor, and in front of Menge Avenue. They will eat anything you throw into the feeding school: live baits, dead bait, top water, flies, ANYTHING!!! Just hearing that drag scream is what it's all about. This type of fishing is perfect for kids and or new comers to fishing. Just get out there and enjoy it, all of it. As always, have fun and be safe.

Mississippi Attorney General's Office, Secretary of State's Office Engage in Nationwide Effort to Combat Fraudulent Veteran Charities

SEA COAST ECHO

Jackson, Miss.—The Mississippi Attorney General's Office and Secretary of State's Office join the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) and law enforcement officials and charity regulators from every state, the District of Columbia, American Samoa, Guam, and Puerto Rico in announcing "Operation Donate with Honor," an education campaign alerting donors to fundraising solicitations falsely promising donations to veterans and service members.

The effort is also supported by the Mississippi Veterans Affairs Board and Mississippi National Guard.

"Giving back to our veterans who have sacrificed so much for our freedom is a worthy cause, but, unfortunately, it has also become a common way to scam people out of money and veterans out of resources," Mississippi Attorney General Jim Hood said.

Secretary of State Delbert Hosemann agreed.

"Mississippians are the most generous people in the Nation, always answering the call when it comes to our veterans and service members," he said. "Operation Donate with Honor continues our Office's position to ensure funds donated are received by those who need it the most."

Operation Donate with Honor was developed by the FTC and the National Association of State Charity Officials (NASCO), the association of state offices charged with oversight of charitable organizations and charitable solicitations in the United States.

The initiative pairs enforcement actions with an education campaign to help consumers recognize charitable solicitation fraud and identify legitimate charities.

This includes a social media campaign and a public service announcement video that highlights tips on how to research the legitimacy of charities so consumers can give wisely to veterans organizations:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ABxiFqSktyg>. Veterans fundraising fraud schemes target potential donors online, via telemarketing, direct mail, door-to-door contacts, and at retail stores, falsely promising to help homeless and disabled veterans, to provide veterans with employment counseling, mental health counseling or other assistance, and to send care packages to deployed service members. Many schemes solicit nationwide.

Stacey Pickering, Executive Director of the Mississippi Veterans Affairs Board, and Lt. Col. Christian Patterson, Director of Public Affairs for the Mississippi Military Department, echoed the importance of this educational initiative.

"On behalf of Mississippi's over 200,000 veterans, I want to thank Attorney General Hood and Secretary Hosemann for their leadership and protection of our Veterans and their benefits," Auditor Pickering said. "Our Veterans have stood in the gap to protect our nation; it is only right that we stand in the gap to show them our appreciation and eternal thanks."

"All efforts to prevent our Mississippi National Guard Soldiers, Airmen and family members from being targets of fraud are greatly appreciated," Lt. Col. Patterson said. "The 'Operation Donate With Honor' partnership will be a strong tool for consumers as they continue to support our force into the future."

Tips to remember when donating to a charity include:

- Ask for the charity's name, website, and physical location;
 - Ask how much of any donation will go to the charitable program you want to support;
 - Check the Secretary of State's website to see whether the charity is registered in Mississippi: <http://charities.sos.ms.gov/onlineportal/ch/page/charities-search/Portal.aspx>;
 - Search the charity's name online with the word "scam" or "complaint." See what other people say about it;
 - Check out the charity's ratings at the Wise Giving Alliance, Charity Watch, or Charity Navigator;
 - Never pay with cash, a gift card, or by wiring money; and
 - Consider paying by credit card, but never over the phone, and only after receipt of written information you can verify.
- For more information about charities and charity laws in Mississippi, visit www.ago.state.ms.us or www.sos.ms.gov/charities. More information from the FTC is accessible at www.FTC.gov/Charity.

Jax is a 1 year old German Shepherd/Red Heeler mix, who was surrendered by his owner, because they were moving and chose not to take him with them. We are determined to find Jax a true forever family, who will love and cherish him forever.

According to his previous owner, Jax is house trained, great with other dogs and children, and walks well on a leash and harness. We are struck by his handsome face and beautiful markings, and his sweet and loving personality. We feel Jax would be a trustworthy family pet, or an exemplary canine best friend for a single person, couple or active retirees. Please stop by the shelter at 7175 Texas Flat Rd, Kiln, and meet Jax, (M-F 10am-4pm). He is an awesome dog, who deserves a "second chance" family. Call the shelter, 466 4516, for more information on Max, and visit our Facebook page, Hancock County Animal Shelter, MS, to see more pictures of Max, and of the many other adoptable furbabies looking for their forever home.

DEVOTIONAL PAGE

DID YOU TELL YOUR BROTHER ABOUT YOUR SALVATION EXPERIENCE?

BY GARY ANDREWS

GARY@GADEVOTIONALS.COM

Remembering the days of my youth, especially the time I accepted Jesus as my Savior, gives me great pleasure and fond recollections of the 1950's and 1960's.

When my pastor talked with me, and this was in 1958, about my decision to follow Christ, he asked me if I was ready to join the church. I said, "Yes I am but let me first go and tell my brother of what has happened to me."

Unbeknownst to me, this pastor used me and my brother as an example of someone accepting Christ as his Savior and the first thing he wants to do is go and tell someone.

This is how it is when someone becomes a child of the living God. They are so excited with the renewed peace of mind that they want to share the experience.

In the gospel of Matthew 8:1-4, Jesus cleanses a leper and tells him to tell no one except the priest, but the cleansed man told everyone he saw.

In fact his story in the gospel of Mark kept Jesus from entering the city and had to stay outside in deserted places. We are also told through the gospels of two blind men that received their sight because Jesus asked them, "Do you believe that I am able to do this?" They said to Him, "Yes, Lord." Then He touched their eyes and immediately their vision was given and He instructed them to tell no one.

They couldn't contain themselves and told everyone. This is the way it is when Jesus comes into your heart and takes control of your life.

The world becomes second nature to you and your renewed life in Christ takes over. The excitement is beyond control and the first thing you want to do is tell someone what Jesus has done for you.

I remember vividly that Easter Sunday in 1958 that my brother and I walked the aisle of our church proclaiming that we had accepted Christ as our Savior and asked to become members of that body of Christ.

Accepting Christ as your Lord and Savior is something that you will want to share with others, whether it is your brother or a person you have just met.

Prayer: Father God, I thank you for my salvation experience and the opportunity of sharing it with my brother.

Help me to be an example for you in everything I do. Amen.

Kid Scoop Together:

FUN AT THE FAIR

There is so much to see at a fair: cows, sheep, horses, displays of beautiful flowers, pie and cake baking contests, quilts, concerts, crafts, farm and livestock exhibits, carnival games and rides. All of these make fairs an exciting experience for the whole family.

Puzzling Prizes

Lots of people play carnival games at the fair to win plush toys. Find what each prize has in common in the same row, across, up and down, and diagonally. (Hint: In the first row across, they all have hats.)

Crunch the Numbers

The fair is filled with stuff to eat! Look over the Snack Shack menu. Add up the total price of all the items in each group and figure out which order belongs to which person.
